LEADERSHIP & LEGACY

MUSLIM WOMEN REMEMBERED

Razia Sultan

1205 – 1240 C.E.

Courageous and Intelligent Ruler

Razia Sultan was leader of the Delhi Sultanate in the thirteenth century.

Although her reign was short, she established law and order, encouraged trade, built infrastructure, and founded schools, centers for research, and public libraries. She helped the underserved and listened routinely to their needs, supported the arts, and pushed for minority rights.
